

LITTLE GIRL CRUSHED TO DEATH UNDER STREET CAR

TURKISH CRISIS AGAIN CRITICAL: CLASH IS NEAR

Military Situation is Increasingly Serious Today.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
The Turkish situation reached another critical stage today. Kemal Pasha's reply to the allied governments has been made known at Constantinople by his Aide de Camp and is an acceptance of proposed conditions, but with the insistence that Turkish military movements shall proceed and that Russia, Bulgaria and Persia shall be admitted to the proposed peace conference.

The military situation has become increasingly serious. The Turkish forces have occupied Kum Kaleh at the mouth of the Dardanelles, commanding the entrance to the straits, with a cavalry force. Another nationalist cavalry, 3,000 strong, is at Eren Keul, 10 miles from the British lines at Chanak.

Russia is alarmed. Soviet Russia has sent a note to the allied powers, the Balkan states and Egypt proposing an immediate peace conference, in the hope it says of saving southeastern Europe from a threatened new outbreak of bloodshed, and giving warning that Russia will refuse to recognize any decision regarding the Dardanelles to which she is not a party.

The armistice conference has been set by the allied high commander for October 2 at Mudania.

Constantinople reports growing indications of the abdication of the Sultan of Turkey and the selection of a successor acceptable to Kemal Pasha.

Venzelos is now figuring in the political discussions in Athens. The former premier is mentioned as one of the members of the nationalist cabinet which will seek to reconcile the Constantinian and Venzelist element in a movement to assure a united Greece in this critical juncture for the nation.

Constantinople, Sept. 26.—(By the Associated Press.)—Simultaneously with their occupation yesterday of Eren Keul, it is learned, the Turkish nationalists also took possession of Kum Kaleh, at the mouth of the Dardanelles. The occupying forces consisted of cavalry.

Seizure of these places constitutes violation of the neutral zone of the straits. Both are directly on the straits. Eren Keul being between Kum Kaleh and Chanak which latter place is held by the British.

The Kemalists have an entire cavalry corps at Adrianmlyt 50 miles southeast of Chanak.

ORATORS FELL DOWN ON JOBS;
RECORD MISSED
Reason You Didn't Get Congressional Record.

(By Associated Press Leased Wire)
Washington, Sept. 26.—Sam Robinson has been the house leg man for the Congressional record almost since the time it began publication. He is about the only popular reporter on the hill. Six nights a week he has gone to the government's big printing plant with enough copy to choke an elephant. He never fell down—until yesterday.

After tramping through the house office building until he was foot sore and weary, Sam produced such a small lot of bright, snappy items, that the editor decided not to go to press last night—and that, too, on the heels of Carpenter's collapse and with the world series almost at the ball fan's door.

Before the house adjourned nearly everybody got permission to print undelivered speeches, and like a good reporter Sam went to get them. But in most cases he found nobody at home. "Not your fault, Sam," the editor said. "Run along to the movies and try again tomorrow."

And that's why the Record missed the mails and why it won't be on your breakfast table this morning, with its hot stuff and its features.

DO YOU KNOW?

(By Dixon Chamber of Commerce)
The Reynolds Wire Co. was organized and incorporated in 1894 by its President, H. G. Reynolds, who recognized the many advantages of locating the industry in Dixon. This was the first factory west of Buffalo, N. Y., to manufacture wire screen cloth. The business has grown steadily in volume and importance. The screen cloth product is distributed through leading hardware jobbers and seven manufacturers in the south, central west and on the Pacific coast. There has also been a steadily growing demand in Honolulu for Sun-Red Edge brands, where salt air and atmospheric conditions are particularly severe on screen cloth. Recently connections have been formed with leading import houses in Australia and New Zealand where shipments are now being made.

For many years past this Dixon product has been distinguished by its exclusive red-painted edge quality—identification, this feature being protected by letters patent. It is the only black painted and electro-galvanized wire cloth that has any identification on the woven fabric.

Another exclusive feature is being introduced by Reynolds Wire Co.—a "self-measured" cloth, having a red mark every foot and every six inches on both salvage edges. This feature is regarded by the hardware trade as one of the most important developments in the wire cloth industry during the past half century. It insures accuracy in measurement and is also a great time saver to the dealer.

The growing demand for a quality identified screen cloth led this progressive company in 1916 to establish its own mill for drawing fine weaving wire as also other grades of wire, such as box binding and stapling wire, tinned broom wire, stove pipe and stone wire, etc., on which a trade has been established throughout this country, also in South America, China and Japan.

One of the most important steps in the history of this successful industry is the enlargement of the weaving plant by the addition of a four-story re-inforced concrete building now in process of erection, 150 feet square, extending from Commercial Alley south to First Street, and east to Crawford Avenue. The completion of this building will more than double the former capacity of this branch of the business, and will give a much needed outlet for the fine weaving wire products of the drawing mill. The new improvement also includes installation of a series of tanks in special subway so that hereafter all shipments of paint, varnish and naphtha will be received in car lots and transferred by suction pumps direct to storage tanks, a great saving in cost and thus practically eliminating the element of fire hazard.

During the past twenty-eight years the wire screen plant has operated almost continuously on a 24-hour schedule, and even during the past two years of business depression, when many manufacturing plants throughout the country were entirely closed down, both the wire drawing and wire weaving plants were operated continuously day and night.

The community of Dixon is unusually fortunate in having an industry that operates two large plants which have proved to be steady business feeders both in times of prosperity as well as in times of depression.

DIXON LEGION MAN TOO GAME FOR ANY OF QUINCY'S BUNCH

Art Handell Put Dixon Slogan Beyond Any Obliteration.

The Dixon American Legion post created quite a stir yesterday at the annual state convention at Rock Island which closes this evening. Aside from storming the convention city yesterday morning headed by the post band, the delegation from this city started something when they swept the convention hall with literature concerning Dixon and made a strong bid for the 1923 meeting. Several southern cities, Danville and Quincy being the leaders were also bidders for next year's meeting.

For a time the battle appeared to center between Dixon and Quincy. Arthur Handell, one of the Dixon delegation, used a can of paint advantageously, boosting for the next convention. Placards, "Dixon 1923" flared from all sides. The Quincy delegation lost no time in covering over the Dixon and placing Quincy in its place. Handell finally climbed to a dizzy height on one of the larger buildings in the business center and in bold letters, painted the slogan. The Quincy delegation was unable to produce a human squirrel who was game to climb to this lofty position to erase the words and figures. Later, Quincy withdrew from the race and favored Danville, which was the most likely to win next year's convention.

Dixon, however, stands a very good chance of securing the 1924 gathering. The Dixon Legion band under the direction of Dudley Friedline, took second prize in the band concert contest. A purse amounting to $200 was awarded to the local band, who lost by a very narrow margin from taking first money. Bloomington's post band secured this honor on the merit of appearance all members of that organization appearing in bright, new uniforms. Several of the Dixon delegation accompanied the post band back to Dixon last night, a few remaining for the closing sessions today.

Chicago for Dixon.
"Tin money" and "Harding's bonus" were the slogan used by the Dixon post yesterday during the convention. Within two hours after the local delegation had landed in Rock Island, the entire Chicago delegation were in line for bringing the 1923 convention to this city.

The "tin money" were the small circular pieces of tin from the tops of cans from the Horden mill plant. These were distributed through the streets and were the talk of yesterday's convention.

The Dixon Legion band was one of twelve bands that passed before the review stand and was the only organization of its kind to keep the regulation step. Four of the bands were from Chicago and were composed of many more members than the local organization. The judges deliberated for two hours before awarding the first and second prizes, the only thing preventing Dixon from taking first money, being the new uniforms worn by the Bloomington band.

Oxnham on Job.
Secretary E. R. Oxnham of the local Chamber of Commerce accompanied the Dixon delegation and to him is due largely the credit for lining up the northern Illinois delegations for the 1923 convention for Dixon. This honor is to be decided this afternoon. A number of telegrams were sent from Dixon today, inviting the State Legion to come to Dixon next year.

"Strikes" of Gold and Silver Rumor Brings Gold Rush

(By Associated Press Leased Wire)
Randsburg, Calif., Sept. 26.—Announcement coming almost simultaneously of gold and silver "strikes" in seven mines of the Rand Mining district caused a repetition of early California scenes here yesterday and today.

Butte avenue, the principal street of Randsburg is thronged with visitors. Since the announcement of the strikes, a newspaper, brokerage office and several small businesses have been established.

The mines in which paying ore was asserted to have been found are widely scattered over the Rand district, which was the scene of a gold rush about 25 years ago.

Flivver Towed Big Car to Repair Shop

A heavy Packard roadster was towed into Dixon last night by a Ford coupe, the occupants of both cars being American Legion members, who were returning from the state convention at Rock Island to their homes in Rockford. About three miles west of Sterling the larger machine broke down and the Ford was used to tow it to a local garage where the necessary repairs were made, the party continuing on their way.

DOING HIS BEST TO MESS THINGS UP AGAIN

MARION MERCHANTS REFUSE TO GO BOND OF INDICTED MINERS

Thus Selection of Petit Jury Will Be Much Easier.

Marion, Ill., Sept. 26.—(By the Associated Press.)—Attorneys for the state and defense were scheduled to hold a conference with Judge D. T. Hartwell, of Williamson county circuit court today to discuss setting a date for the bringing to trial of the seven-ty-four men indicted by the special grand jury which investigated the twenty-two killings at the Lester strip mine, near here last June. It was reported that late October was being considered as the time for the opening of the trials.

Eighty-six business men of the coal mining district supplied $40,000 bonds for the men charged with the murders, although merchants of Marion refused, without exception to sign any bonds. This attitude on the part of the local population is commented on as significant, in that it indicates that it will be much easier to obtain petit juries to try the men than had been anticipated.

With bonds fixed for all but eight of the men indicated for murder, twenty-eight of the indicted persons, including two charged with murder, have not been apprehended. Six of the men indicted for murder are lodged in the county jail, bail being refused, as they are considered the leaders of the mine killings.

In the 214 indictments returned by the grand jury nine persons are named as high as five or six times, being charged with several individual murders, conspiracy, rioting and assault.

Says Great Parties Have Hard Time in Finding Real Issue

Denver, Colo., Sept. 25.—The two great political parties in the United States are having difficulty to find an issue on which they can differ materially, and the natural outcome of the situation is likely to result in the scraping of the republican and democratic parties in favor of a new political lineup of conservatives and radicals, in the opinion of Lindley M. Garrison, Assistant Secretary of War. Mr. Garrison is here to attend a hearing in the United States district court. Mr. Garrison expressed the opinion that the new parties are not likely to make their appearance before the next presidential election. He also declared that the democratic party is "woefully weak" in the matter of outstanding leaders, although he thinks that James M. Cox still has a considerable following and that William Randolph Hearst is a formidable figure in democratic circles.

FAY BUS CO. IS VICTIM OF FIRE ONE BUS IS LEFT

Thirty-one Busses of Rockford Concern
Are Destroyed.

(By Associated Press Leased Wire)
Rockford, Ill., Sept. 26.—Fire of unknown origin which destroyed the Fay Motor Bus Company Building last night, caused a loss of $125,000, it was estimated today. The only insurance carried was $12,000 on the building which was owned by Alderman D. F. Carney, and valued at $25,000. The bus company lost thirty-one of its thirty-two busses, and all of its repair and building equipment. The damage to adjoining buildings was slight. No one was injured in the fire.

The Fay Company had been a competitor of the City Traction Company in the transportation business here and operated bus lines at Camp Sherman and Camp Pike during the war. The bus company will not resume operations here, it was announced by Ronald Fay, manager of the company and son of Thomas J. Fay, president.

Carp's Conqueror May Come to U. S.

(By Associated Press Leased Wire)
New York, Sept. 26.—Battling Sikl, the Senegalese boxer who has risen to sudden pugilistic fame by his knock-out over Georges Carpentier, was besieged today by offers from New York fight promoters for bouts with American opponents here. His manager, M. Hellers, has at least three propositions under consideration.

Tex Rickard, after receiving a telegram from Hellers expressing willingness to bring Sikl to this country after January 1, cabled an offer to match the Senegalese with any light heavyweight, including Harry Greb, the American titleholder; Gene Tunney, former champion; or Tom Gribbons, St. Paul boxer. Rickard, however, said he had made no financial proposition to Sikl and would not do so pending a reply.

Constantinople, Sept. 25.—(By the Associated Press.)—The allied high commissioners plan to meet today for the purpose of bringing together representatives of Greece and Turkish nationalists for the conference at Mudania at which the terms of an armistice are expected to be settled.

Rear Admiral Mark L. Bristol, commander of the American naval detachment in Turkish waters, will attend in the capacity of observer for the United States. The conference will examine the present military and naval positions of the belligerents with a view of immediate cessation of hostilities.

TIERNAN VS. POULIN CASE TO COME TO AN END TODAY IS PLAN

Judge May Not Render His Decision, However,
Till Friday.

South Bend, Ind., Sept. 26.—(By the Associated Press.)—The Poulin-Tiernan case is expected to come to an end today and it will be left to Judge Ducomb to decide whether the charges of Mrs. Augusta Tiernan that Harry Poulin is the father of her 10-month-old child are to be upheld. Both sides will be given an hour for rebuttal argument when court convenes today, following which the case will go to the judge for decision.

Following the examination of Poulin yesterday, the defense closed its case. The defendant's testimony, which was intended as a reinforcement of that of the other defense witnesses, was in effect a general denial of previous testimony of the plaintiff. The witness said he met Mrs. Tiernan in the summer of 1920 at a dance to which he was accompanied by his wife. He said that later the two families became acquainted and had often exchanged calls and attended entertainments together. At no time had any improper relations been carried on between himself and his accuser, he said, and denied that he had ever accompanied Mrs. Tiernan alone to places where the latter had testified he had taken her.

Hold Firm to Alibi.

As a forerunner to Poulin's testimony, relative and business associates of the defendant were placed on the stand and told of seeing Poulin at church and other places on occasions that the plaintiff alleges he was in her company. Throughout the rigid cross examination, conducted by Prosecutor Jellison, Poulin and those who testified in his behalf held firm to their stories.

Equally staunch in her allegations was Mrs. Tiernan and her testimony was corroborated by that of her husband, Professor John Tiernan of Notre Dame University. Mrs. Tiernan testified that she met the defendant at a dance here in the summer of 1920; that later she and her husband became acquainted with the Poulin family and a strong friendship grew up between them.

As their meetings became more frequent she testified she became infatuated with Poulin and her relations with her husband became strained and were finally broken off.

Woman's Allegations.
After this, at the suggestion of Poulin, she said, meetings were arranged between the two and the affair was carried on for the better part of a year. Finally, she testified, she told Poulin she was about to become a mother and that he acknowledged the paternity of the unborn child. Fol-

MOTOR CLUB TO INSTALL SIGNAL AT BAD CORNERS

Takes Steps to Lessen Dangers at River Road Corner.

Three fatalities and as many serious injuries have taken place within the past six weeks at Hess Corners on the Lincoln Highway west of Dixon, and a view of preventing further accidents, President Frank Schoenholz of the Rock River Motor club, met yesterday with officials of the state highway department. Together, they visited the site of Sunday night's accident and investigated the turn at this point.

It was decided to place a red signal at this point, which it is hoped will prevent further accidents. A large square prism glass signal, such as in use in and near Chicago on all main traveled highways, will be placed at the corner. This signal will be so arranged that when headlights, although dimmed, are reflected against it, a warning light will be shown. The action of the Motor club is evidence of its activity for safer highways in this section.

BLAST IN NEW BANK INJURED MEN THIS MORN

Illinois Merchants in Chicago Damaged
By Explosion.

(By Associated Press Leased Wire)
Chicago, Sept. 26.—Five workmen were injured, one perhaps fatally, lives of forty others imperiled, and windows in neighboring skyscrapers were shattered by an explosion of an air compressor in the new Illinois Merchants Trust Bank building early today.

Henry Ericson, contractor, told the police he had been having labor trouble, but he said he believed the blast was caused by high pressure in the air tank. An official inquiry was begun immediately.

An air compressor blew up with the explosion and some of the police and firemen expressed the opinion that the explosion was confined only to the compressor. Art Covert, the engineer in charge, was the only man injured.

Fire followed the explosion, but was quickly extinguished. Clouds of smoke and dust and the scattered debris hampered searchers.

The new bank building, in the heart of the downtown district, is nearly completed. Windows in nearby skyscrapers were broken by the explosion.

Canada Thistles Given Set Back in Lee Co. This Year

During the past summer Canada thistle commissioners have been at work in every township in Lee county. These men were appointed for their respective townships with full authority to inspect premises for Canada thistles and give instructions for their eradication. In practically every township it is reported that farmers cooperate heartily with the commissioners in doing away with this serious weed.

Early in July Mr. Harrison of the State Department of Agriculture met with the Canada thistle commissioners at the Lee County Farm Bureau office at Amboy. Most of the commissioners were present and took active interest in the meeting. A number of the commissioners had served in previous years gave valuable information as to methods of thistle eradication. It is expected that another meeting of the commissioners will be held to summarize the year's work and to lay plans for next season.

Turks Accept Terms Offered By Allies

Constantinople, Sept. 26.—(By the Associated Press.)—The reply of the Turkish Nationalist government to the allied peace note has been completed, and comprises acceptance of the conditions laid down at the Paris conference to Essad Bey, aide de camp to Mustafa Kemal Pasha, who has arrived here from Smyrna.

The Nationalists however insist on their right to conduct military movements during the progress of the conference, and also demand admission to the meeting of all the allies of the Ankara government including Russia, Persia and Bulgaria.

ODESSA BELKNAP AGED 5, VICTIM OF TRAGIC DEATH

Ran in Front of Car on Depot Avenue
Monday P. M.

Little Odessa Belknop, five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Belknop, 605 College avenue, met a tragic death yesterday afternoon about 3:25 o'clock as she was returning from the kindergarten, when she was run over by a city street car just north of the intersection of Seventh street and Depot avenue. The child, with other school children of about her age, had stopped at the drinking fountain in front of the Public Supply company's office when city car, No. 31, in charge of Motorman Warren G. Clayton, crossed the intersection, north bound.

Suddenly the child started to run across the street and ran directly in the path of the car, was knocked down and killed instantly, her little body being badly mangled as it was rolled by the heavy brake beams beneath the car. When the car was brought to a stop, it was necessary to procure jacks to lift the trucks to remove the lifeless form. The body was taken at once to the Jones' mortuary.

Inquest This Morning.
Coroner S. J. Whetston impelled a jury this morning at 10 o'clock and conducted an inquisition in the county court room at the court house. Aside from the small children who were with the little victim at the drinking fountain and the motorman, there were no eye witnesses to the accident.

Motorman Clayton gave his version of the accident at the inquest as follows: "I left the Northwestern depot at 8:21 on scheduled time, and near the south intersection of Depot avenue and Seventh street, sounded the bell twice and shut off the power. The car coasted across the intersection when I again applied the current. I observed several children at the drinking fountain and suddenly the little girl started to run diagonally across the street. I realized that she was in danger and immediately sounded the bell, reversed the controller, applied the sand to the rail and used the brake."

No Fender on Car.
"She was about 10 or 12 feet from the car when I started to stop it and she ran directly in front of it and was knocked down. The car went a distance of about 15 feet before it came to a stop. I was driving car No. 31 and this car is not equipped with a fender." This statement was in response to a question asked by State's Attorney Mark C. Keller. The motorman added that none of the city cars in Dixon are equipped with fenders but that the cars used in Sterling are thus protected. He further stated that he did everything within his power to bring the car to a stop as soon as possible and to avert the accident.

The seventh street crossing, the rules of the company demanding that all cars slow down at this point. Aside from the motorman, there was but one other witness to the accident. Donald Egler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Egler, 1122 Nachusa avenue, was on his way home from the Woodworth school and stopped at the drinking fountain for a drink. He testified to having seen the little girl start suddenly and run across the street, directly in the path of the approaching car.

Death Instantaneous.
Several witnesses who arrived on the scene immediately after the accident and who assisted in raising the trucks and removing the body, later taking it to the undertaking parlor, testified. These included Richard Reiley, Edward Mealey, Charles McIntyre, Albert J. Coleman, James Curran, Mrs. Lillie Daniel. Mr. Curran witnessed the accident and assisted in removing the body from beneath the brake beams, and testified that death was instantaneous.

Dr. E. A. Sickels, who was summoned to the scene of the accident, testified that upon his arrival, the body had been removed from beneath the car. He made an examination and found that a large portion of the scalp had been torn from the skull, the neck was broken, and the flesh was torn in the abdomen, leaving a wound about 12 inches in length. He stated that death was almost instantaneous and was caused by the fractured vertebrae.

Return Open Verdict.
At the conclusion of the examining of the several witnesses the jury returned a verdict finding that death was caused by her neck being broken, together with other injuries sustained in being run over and killed by city street car, No. 31, of the Sterling, Dixon & Eastern railway company in Dixon, Lee County, Ill., on Monday afternoon, Sept. 24, 1922.

Odessa Belknop was born in Dixon, August 29, 1917, and was just past five years of age. Besides her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Belknop, she is married.

GOLDEN WEDDING WAS CELEBRATED

Last Friday, Sept. 15, was the fiftieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Cooley, residing east of Chicago, and they with more than two hundred of their relatives and friends as guests fittingly observed the occasion.

The day was ideal and the tables were spread on the lawn beneath the shade trees, presenting a most attractive appearance. A program was given from the porch and was especially pleasing as their children, Mrs. Willis Tower and Ernest D. Cooley and two grandchildren, Dorothy and Frederick Tower, furnished the instrumental numbers. The opening number of the program was an instrumental trio, by Willis Tower, piano, Ernest D. Cooley, saxophone, and Frederick Tower, violin. Other numbers on the program were:

Song—Mrs. Sadie Grover.
Reading—Mrs. Frank Hefebower.
Violin Solo—Frederick Tower.
Song—Della May Tilton.
Remarks—Rev. Hitchen.
Song—Charlotte Grocer.
Reading—Miss Denslow.
Piano Solo—Miss Dorothy Tower.
An orchestra furnished music while the guests were being served to such a supper as those who know Mrs. Cooley best would expect her to prepare on such an occasion.

In the center of the bride's table was a wonderful wedding cake, a gift from their two children. The invitations read: "Please omit presents," but many beautiful flowers were brought which gave much pleasure to Mr. and Mrs. Cooley. The company was made up of neighbors and friends from nearby communities, together with the following from a distance: Mr. and Mrs. George English, Chelsea, Mich.; Mrs. Gertrude Hatch Knisely, Seattle, Wash.; Mrs. L. Prunty, Wilmington, Kas.; Mrs. Orner Denslow, Miss Alice Denslow, Waverly, Tenn.; Mrs. Frank Hefebower and Mr. and Mrs. John Heller, Sterling, Mrs. May Gardner, of Michigan, Rev. and Mrs. Hitchens, Sandwich, Ill.; Mrs. C. C. Tyler, Rockford, Ill. A telegram was received from Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mitchell of Clay Center, Kas.

The occasion was one of great pleasure and one which comes but to few.

UNGER-HITT

The marriage of a former Dixon girl, is written up in the Rockford Register Gazette as follows, the Unger family having resided here for some time. She graduated here in 1909, and Mr. Hitt having relatives in Dixon, it will be of interest to Dixon people:

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Unger announce the marriage of their daughter, Orpha Naomi, to Charles Leonard Hitt, which was solemnized this morning at 8 o'clock at their home, 2115 Andrews street. The Rev. O. Garfield Beckstrand, assistant pastor of Trinity Lutheran church, officiated.
Preceding the ceremony Mrs. Beckstrand, contralto, sang, "The Greatest Wish in the World," by Del Rio and "Because," by D'Ardelet. Miss Ruth Mundhenke, pianist, and Miss Ethel McCammon, violinist, played the wedding march to the accompaniment of which the bride made her way to the improvised altar of asters and ferns.
The bride was gowned in white Canton crepe trimmed with rose-point lace and pearls. Her coronet was of lilies of the valley. She carried a shower bouquet of valley lilies and tiny rosebuds.

Miss Myrtle Kleckner, of Freeport, who attended her as bridesmaid wore a frock of Harding blue georgette crepe and carried an old-fashioned bouquet. Leslie Hitt, brother of the groom, was best man.
Following the reading of the service, Miss Ella Satter gave a piano solo and Mrs. Beckstrand sang a prayer, "Oh, Perfect Love." A three-course breakfast was served.

For her going-away costume Mrs. Hitt wore a suit of dark blue and a gray velvet hat with feather trimming. Mr. Hitt and his bride left at 10:40 o'clock for a week's wedding trip to Dubuque, Iowa.

Upon their return the couple will make their home at 2319 Peach street where a new house, completely furnished, awaits them.

Mr. and Mrs. Hitt have been active workers in the Sunday school at Trinity Lutheran church for many years. Mr. Hitt served overseas during the World War. He is at present employed by Emerson-Brantingham company.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mrs. A. R. Powell and Miss Eleanor Powell, city treasurer, of Dixon.

AT THE G. A. R. ENCAMPMENT

Mrs. Carrie Decker, Senior Vice President of the Woman's Relief Corps, Department of Illinois, was a guest, on Saturday, at the second annual luncheon and reception of the Cook County Association of the Woman's Relief Corps at the Hotel LaSalle in Chicago. Nearly 450 G. A. R. veterans and their auxiliary members were in attendance at the luncheon and the reception which followed, preparatory to their departure to the National Encampment at Des Moines.

Department President Woman's Relief Corps, Mrs. Jessie B. Schroeder, and Mrs. Decker, left over the Rock Island Saturday night to attend the encampment.

There will be about 15,000 of the 190,000, who are left, to present that mighty army of '62, when they open their 56th National Encampment there Monday. At the rate they are going years be none left to carry on their work.

In a great measure their work is done, and yet, there remains the problem of who is to carry on their ideals? Who or what organization is

IF YOU ARE WELL-BRED—

You know courtesy is the foundation of all conversation. Once people pride themselves upon telling the truth, no matter how much it might hurt. Today we recognize that kindness is as much of a virtue as candor.
Arguments should be avoided as well as contradiction, always discourteous. If you find yourself directed toward a heated discussion of some topic, it is wiser to withdraw or direct the talk into other channels.

FIGHTING AGAINST THE GREAT-EST ODDS.

Ralph DeWitt, his wife, three children and a dog tramped more than three hundred miles from Sparta, Mo., to the Arkansas river cottonfields in quest of work, and he dragged all of the family's belongings after him in a small cart. DeWitt had only $6, which was not ample for railroad fare, and he decided to walk to work.

Jacob Gompert, 58 years old, with his two sons, cultivates and manages a 320-acre farm near Mitchell, Neb. Gompert has two artificial feet, yet he says that he does not find his labors to be much harder than formerly.

A score of men of different nationalities have attempted in the last month or so to swim across the English channel. Seafarers declared that the wind was too strong and the water too rough and cold this season, and that nobody could hope to swim from shore to shore. A few swimmers got to two or four miles from shore, while others had to give up their attempts after a few minutes or a few hours, yet these failures did not discourage those who were ready to battle against extraordinary odds.

It is not unusual for men, in search of employment, to walk all day from place to place, covering many miles with refusals one after another, nor for business men, after deciding on a well-thought-out policy, to persevere in their efforts, notwithstanding losses and rebuffs.

There is very little satisfaction in doing easy work. To arduous effort there is a wonderful fascination. The delight of thinking out and working out impossible problems, and overcoming the strongest opposition, is indescribable.

Men and women complain of their ordinary troubles. Conditions are disagreeable to men in their offices, and they seem to be unable to make headway. Women can not dispose of annoyances, which appear to multiply and retard. Men and women sourly say that their work is all drudgery, their affairs are always embarrassing and almost overwhelming, and they have not time for recreation.

The greatest satisfaction lies not in being without adversity, obstructions and hazards, but in having to test our mettle. It is not so much success that is gratifying as it is achievement, and not so much achievement as application. Things that are hard to do are most interesting, and arduous, baffling work, taxing our resources to the extreme, is a pleasure of itself. We can not know what we can do unless we try, or are forced, to our best.

OUR BEST FRIEND—THE ENEMY.

Bulgaria has as prime minister a self-assured peasant, Alexander Stamboulsky, who believes in imposing his own opinions on his colleagues and the people, and, like most men who are unused to power, takes almost sinister gratification in wielding his authority. He sneers at the king, saying he has trained his royal majesty, and flings brusque defiance at neighboring governments.

Power, pride and tyranny are a natural triumvirate. Men and institutions, which, having power, can resist misapplying it, are as exceptional, as rare, as a bright, warm day in mid-winter. It is almost impossible to be mighty without being vain, and self-adulation and pomp lead inevitably to oppression.

Stamboulsky will fall, as others like him have fallen. The political leaders of other nations will be vigilant, and, when the opportunity occurs, they will topple him from his high place. The throne and the people of his own land will seem to be subservient to his dictates, but secretly they will resent his despotism and await a chance to dethrone him.

Competition, as we call the rivalry among men and institutions, especially in business, is the most practical and effectual check to power, and pride, and tyranny. It is a boon whose actual benefits could not be over-estimated.

Our enemies are our friends. Opposition is a most desirable advantage. Our friends can injure us, but our enemies can not. If we are weak, contention will make us strong and aggressive; if we are overmastering, contention will oblige us to be considerate, humble and just.

Our subduing foe is within each of us. Our rivals in our avocations are not antagonists, but allies. Criticism and opposition are friendly influences which curb power, restrain pride and prevent tyranny. It is not our enemies, our competitors, and opposition and difficulties which we must fear, but our friends and ourselves. A fighting competitor is a worthy friend.

LOANS BY BANKS TO MINERS.

Financial and industrial interests are much perturbed over the loans made by New York and Indianapolis banks to the United Mine Workers. They look on the loans as indicating unwise policy. Would it not, on the contrary, be most injudicious not to let the mine workers have money to an amount which they are capable of repaying? If they were prevented from obtaining funds, would not this arbitrary method impress the average workman as being a form of oppression?

Within the law and its rights labor is entitled to the same accommodations to which industry is entitled within the law and its rights. Fairness must operate both ways.

MR. KIPLING DENIES INTERVIEW.

It will be interesting to have all the facts about the Kipling interview, which Clare Sheridan wrote, but which the poet and novelist denies that he gave. Mr. Kipling explains that he signs, as usual, whatever he wishes to publish.

Editors every once in a while have problems like this to determine. Sometimes a reporter writes an imaginary story. But the rule is that reporters take great pride in being accurate. Reporters have a sense of honor toward their papers and those with whom they deal, and very, very few of them misrepresent facts or misquote in interviews.

Mr. Kipling's denial is quite circum-spect. He says he did not give an interview. He says he did not say things ascribed to him. It would be interesting to have Clare Sheridan's explanation.

POPULAR EDUCATION IN DIPLOMACY.

Elihu Root has contributed an article to Foreign Affairs, entitled "A Requisite for the Success of Popular Diplomacy," in which he states that the public is taking an interest in international questions and wants to be fully informed on them. He holds that the people should be instructed in the fundamentals of diplomacy.

Backdoor government and secret diplomacy have caused most of the trouble in politics. It has been a practice to look on the people as being ignorant or indifferent. For the present, at least, publicists, like Mr. Root, find the public is deeply concerned in public affairs.

It should not be hard to acquaint the people with the fundamentals of diplomacy and international relations. This knowledge can be inculcated by demonstration, as diplomacy, like politics, is action.

THE PUBLIC'S THE BOSS.

Augusta Chronicle: Do you know that, under our laws, the people now practically run the public utilities? That these utilities can not expand through profits, and must make additions with new money only?

That they can not make more than a reasonable profit on their investment—the amount of the investment being determined by the people as per the showing of physical property—stocks and bonds not being taken into consideration?

That when the people make a street railway pave a street, the cost thereof comes out of the riders?

That all this is so, not because any railroad company wants it so, but because the people's laws make it so?

The great public will not readily accept these statements as accurate; and such statements are most unpopular. But they might near represent the exact situation—the people are mighty near the practical owners of the public utilities, these days, under the people's laws.

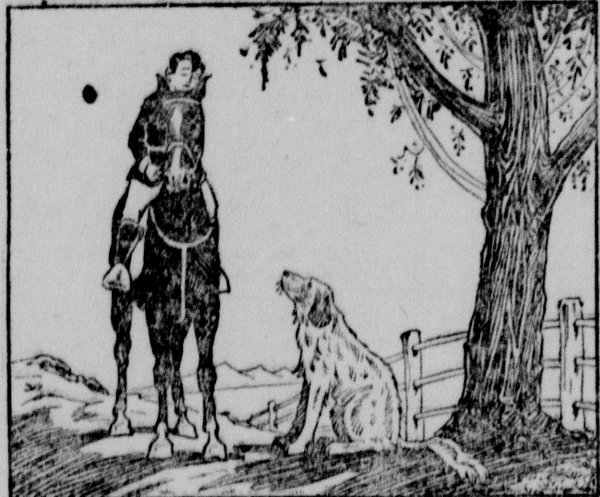

Cheka, the supreme political administration of the soviet, officially killed 1,766,188 persons, many of them intellectuals, up to last February, when it was renamed in appreciation of its executive capacity. This record illustrates how Russia is red.

THE TRIO ENJOYED THE WALK IN THE FRESH MORNING AIR, AND SOON FORGOT ABOUT THEIR APPETITES. JACK, DECIDEDLY BEING HUNGRY, WAS STILL WORRIED ABOUT THE MONEY HE WAS CARRYING.

PRESENTLY JACK MET A STRANGER ALONG THE ROAD. "HOW FAR IS IT TO RIVERS END?" HE ASKED. THE MAN REPLIED THAT IT WAS ONLY ABOUT A MILE INSTANT. THEN THE BOY RODE ON.

COMING AROUND A TURN IN THE ROAD, JACK SAW THE LITTLE TOWN. THIS WAS THE FIRST VILLAGE HE HAD SEEN SINCE STARTING ON HIS JOURNEY OVER TWO MONTHS AGO. CONTINUED IN NEXT CHAPTER.

THE ENCHANTED FOREST

By Berton Braier

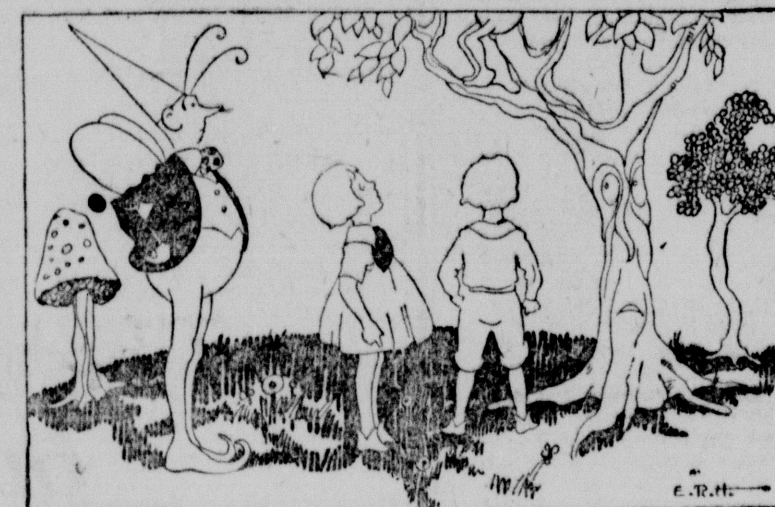

They say that the Forest of Arden is peopled with Youth alone! When the arteries start to harden, When grizzled hair has grown, No more in these haunts of wonder Shall you wander the pathways sweet, No more shall you saunter under The shade where the branches meet.

But, the Forest was made of lovers, And there is no age to love, And the same enchantment hovers In the heart and spirit of Whoever still knows the glory Which glows in his loved one's eyes, And the thrill of the old, old story The spell of which never dies.

They say—and their words are truth— That the Forest of Arden's made For those who are blithe and youthful To linger beneath its shade; But you shall find gray-haired sages Its delts and its gleams among, For lovers may be all ages But love is forever young. (Copyright, 1922, NEA Service.)

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

TO BEAMY GLEAM STAR.

Suddenly he heard a laugh from the tree. The Twins met Rubadub, the fairy-man, and told him what had happened. "We went to see the wizard of the Dingle Dell just as you advised," said Nick, "but we've only had bad luck." "Bad luck!" exclaimed Rubadub. "How's that?" "Well, we did just what he told us when we asked him how we could get the Fairy Queen's wand back, but every time we did what he told us we got into trouble. Once we got into a thistle-patch and had to be saved by the thistle-patch fairy; once we got into a deep mud-puddle and had to be saved by the Brownies, and once we were dropped into the ocean and had to be saved by a whale!" "Jemima's nanny-goat!" exclaimed Rubadub. "That's just awful and too bad as well! I believe that Flap-Doodle is to blame for everything." Suddenly they heard a laugh that seemed to come from the branches of a tree right over their heads. And looking up didn't they see Flap-Doodle himself grinning down at them. "Ha, ha!" laughed the silly fellow. "Yes, I did it all. I hard you say you were going to get the wizard of the Dingle Dell to help you, so I made myself into a wizard and when you came along you never knew the difference. 'I still have the Fairy Queen's wand, and I mean to keep it.' So saying, Flap-Doodle waved the wand before their very eyes, and, flapping his ears, flew straight up into the sky where he liked to stay. "Well, well," declared Rubadub, shaking his head. "You'll have to go after him again, my dears. He's gone in the direction of the eBamy Gleam Star, and taken the wand with him." (To Be Continued.) (Copyright, 1922, NEA Service.)

Common Sense Ways to Keep Well. THE TONGUE—AN INDEX

BY DR. R. H. BISHOP.

The tongue rightly has been called the index to a disordered stomach. There are few physicians, indeed, who would fail to recognize at a glance the heavily coated, gray or yellowish tongue, with tip and margin of red, accompanied by other characteristic symptoms, as denoting the commonest of all ills, indigestion.

The tongue serves also as an index to many other diseases. On the tongue of a small-pox patient are distinctive vesicles (blisters), while the sufferer from measles has small red spots, tipped with white. In case of pernicious anemia, the tongue is exceedingly pale and bloodless and generally becomes very sore. The tongue in the condition of a hemiplegia resembles that of anemia.

Tuberculosis of the tongue commences on the tip or edge and breaks down into an ulcer. It secretes pus and is most painful. If you notice an unnatural appearance of your tongue, it is well to consult a physician. He can determine at once if there is any danger and advise a preventive for the special disease indicated. Usually the first symptoms of a disease are to be seen on the tongue.

LEARN A WORD EVERY DAY

Today's word is—PERTURB.

It's pronounced—per-turb, with accent on the second syllable. It means—to disturb, to vex, to trouble, to disquiet, to agitate.

It comes from—Latin—"per," through by or for and "urbare," to disturb. It's used like this—"Although the Near East is a long way from this country and American interests there are not very extensive, yet the commotion in that part of the world has not failed to perturb the Washington government to some extent."

VAILE AND O'MALLEY

Alias the Lone Wolf

by Louis Joseph Vance Copyright International Magazine Company

A glimpse of startled faces was all they had. Jules touched the headlight switch and opened the exhaust. Above the roaring of the latter Lanyard fancied he could hear a faint rattling sound. He looked back and smiled grimly. Sharp, short flames of orange and scarlet were stubbing the darkness. Somebody had opened fire with an automatic pistol. . . . Sheer waste of ammunition!

The pace waned terrific on a road, like so many roads of France, apparently interminable and straight. And yet, long before the road turned, Lanyard, staring astern as he knelt on the rear seat with arms crossed on the folded top, saw the two white eyes of the gray car swing into view and start in pursuit. Quick work, he called it.

He crawled forward and communicated his news.

"Don't ease up unless you have to," he counseled; "don't think we dare give them an inch."

Back at his post of observation, he watched, hoping against hope, while the car lurched and tore like a mad thing through the night, snoring up grades, screaming down them, drumming across the levels, clattering wildly through villages and hamlets. His heart sank as minute succeeded minute, mile followed mile, and ever the lights of the pursuing car, lost to sight from time to time, reappeared with a brighter, fiercer glow, and conviction forced itself home that they were being gradually but surely overhauled.

He took this intelligence to the ear of Jules. The chauffeur answered only with a worried shake of his head that said too plainly he was doing his best extracting every ounce of power from the engine.

Less than three hundred yards separated pursuer and pursued as they raced out through the open fields once more. And foot by foot this lead was being inexorably cut down. In the seat beside the driver of the gray car a man rose and, steadying himself by holding onto the windshield, poured out the contents of an automatic, presumably hoping to puncture the tires of the quarry. A bullet bored a neat hole through the windshield between the heads of Liane Delorme and Jules. The woman slipped down upon the floor and Jules crouched over the wheel. Lanyard fingered his automatic but held it fire.

Instead, he turned to the lunch hamper and opened it. In the bottom of the basket lay six pint bottles of champagne, four of them unopened. Lanyard took them to the rear seat—and found the gray car had drawn up to within fifty yards of its prey. Making a pace better than seventy miles per hour, it would not dare swerve.

The first empty bottle broke to one side, the second squarely between the front wheels. He grasped the first full bottle by the neck and felt that its weight promised more accuracy, but ducked before attempting to throw it as a volley of shots sought to discourage him. At the first lull he rose and cast the bottle with the overhand action employed in grenade throwing. It crashed fairly beneath the nearer forward wheel of the gray car, but without effect. The lead had been bridged to thirty yards; in two minutes more it would be nothing.

The fourth bottle went wild, but the fifth exploded six inches in front of the offside wheel and its jagged fragments ripped out the heart of the tire. On the instant of the accompanying blow-out the gray car shied like a frightened horse and swerved off the road, hurtling headlong into a clump of trees. The subsequent crash was like the detonation of a great bomb. Deep shadows masked that tragedy beneath the trees. Lanyard saw the beam of the headlights lift and drill perpendicularly into the zenith before it was blacked out.

He turned and yelled in the ear of Jules: "Slow down! Take your time! They've quit!"

Liane Delorme rose from her cramped position on the floor.

"What has become of them?"

Lanyard offered a vague gesture.

"... tried to climb a tree," he replied wearily, and dropping back on the rear seat began to worry the cork out of the last pint bottle of champagne.

He reckoned he had earned a drink if anybody ever had.

steam vessel, excessively neat and smart.

Lanyard stopped short with his hand on the mahogany handrail.

"I say, Liane! Haven't we stumbled into the wrong pew? This is a private yacht."

"It is the little ship of a dear friend, monsieur, who generously permits..." But patience! very soon you shall know."

A door had opened in the after partition, two men had entered. Above a lank, well-poised body clothed in the white tunic and trousers of a ship's officer, he recognized the tragicomic mask of the soldisant Mr. Whitaker Monk. At his shoulder shone the bland, intelligent countenance of Mr. Phinuit.

From this last Lanyard received a good-natured nod, while Monk proceeded directly to Liane Delorme and bowed low over the hand which she languidly lifted to be saluted.

"My dear friend," he said in his sonorous voice. "In another hour I should have begun to grow anxious about you."

"You would have had good reason, monsieur. It is not two hours since one has escaped death—and that for the second time in a single day—by the slenderest margin, and thanks solely to this gentleman here."

Monk consented to see Lanyard, and immediately offered him a profound salute, which was punctiliously returned. His eyebrows mounted to the roots of his hair.

"Ah! that good Monsieur Duchemin."

"But no!" Liane laughed. "It is true, the resemblance is striking; if Paul would consent to grow a beard, it would be extraordinary. But—permit me, Captain Monk, to present my brother, Paul Delorme."

"Your brother, mademoiselle?" The educated eyebrows expressed any number of emotions. Monk's hand was cordially extended. "But I am enchanted, Monsieur Delorme."

BASE HITS

Chicago, Sept. 26.—(By the Associated Press.)—The New York Giants today are champions of the National League for the tenth time in their career. Eight of these triumphs have occurred since 1904 under the leadership of John Joseph McGraw, and this year's victory came after a typical McGraw finish—a battling drive in which the club landed on top despite the loss of its star twirler, Phil Douglas; the collapse of the rest of its mound staff, and in the face of an eleventh hour menace in the form of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

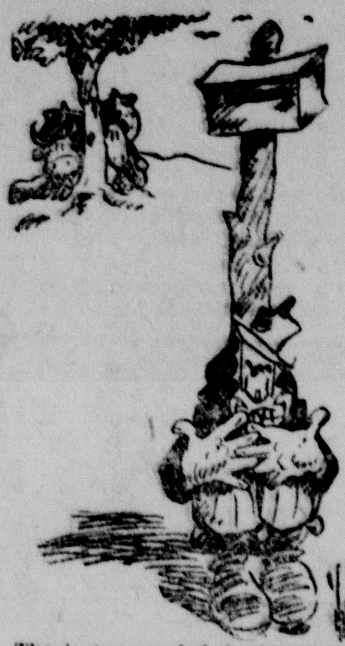

Long George Kelly lashed out the hit that scored Frank Frisch with the winning run in the tenth inning of a tense struggle with the St. Louis Cardinals and removed all trace of mathematical uncertainty in the pennant chase. The final score was 5-4, and Bill Ryan, who relieved McQuillan in the tenth, received credit for the victory.

The Yankees, leading the St. Louis Browns by three one-half games and needing only one more victory to clinch the American League title, cannot settle the issue before Thursday, when they open a three game series in Boston. They have one more game after that, with Washington. The Browns will complete their season with a three game series with the Chicago White Sox, beginning on Friday. The best the Browns could obtain is a tie, which would result only if they win all of their remaining games while the Yankees drop all of theirs.

With the world's series thus a practical certainty as an all-New York affair, plans for the annual classic call for its opening on Wednesday, Oct. 4, with the Giants as the "home club." Games will be played on consecutive days, unless a seventh game is necessary to decide the championship. In that event, a lapse of a day would occur between the sixth and seventh contests.

In the only other major league played yesterday, Cincinnati trounced

The Cincinnati Reds went on a battling rampage against the Phillies and helped Eppa Rixey to turn in his twenty-third victory of the season.

The veteran Jake Daubert starred with the hickory, driving out three hits in five times at bat. One of his drives was a four bagger.

Ty Cobb and his Detroit Tigers journeyed over to the fair of the Pirates and handed the National League a 5-1 trimming, in their exhibition game.

Pitcher Oldham of the Tigers let the Pittsburgh National down with two hits in five innings and Holloway, a recruit who replaced him, did not allow a safety.

Rob Veach, the slugging outfielder of the Tigers, showed the Pirates some heavy hitting by cracking out three hits, one a triple and another a homer. A spectacular catch prevented him from making a second four bagger.

George Kelly, first baseman of the Giants, and nephew of the famous Bill Lange of the old time Cubs, helped nail the final spike in the National League pennant, by driving in the tying run against the Cardinals with a homer in the sixth inning, and then finishing the job by sending Frisch home with the winning marker in the tenth innings with a single.

Cassey Stengel, the Giants' veteran center fielder, strained a leg muscle going after a fly and had to retire from the game.

Dixon Students in Love with Cornell

Illinois students soon learn to like Cornell if the interviews in the Cornellian this last week are any criterion. "I surely do like the old College on the hill," said Orville Smith of 714 Nachusa avenue, Dixon. "The friendly attitude of the upper classmen towards the freshmen appeals to me most. The spirit of co-operation is the first thing you feel when you get on the campus. I am mighty glad to be one of the gang."

"What I admire about the school is the sincere greetings and friendship expressed by all the upper classmen to us poor, green freshmen," said Paul Newcomer, 401 Galena avenue, Dixon. "I think the buildings and campus have an inviting look. I surely feel at home here. I like the way they do things."

SECOND COMING OF CHRIST WAS SERMON THEME

Evangelist Morrow in Strong Sermon at Grace Church.

(Contributed.)

The second coming of Christ was the subject of Harry Morrow's sermon at Grace United Evangelical church last evening and it was based on 1 Thes. 4:13-18. This doctrine presents a most comforting truth. There are two classes of predictions in the Old Testament. In the one class of texts the coming of Christ in humility is despised, rejected and crucified, is described. In the other it is declared that He will come in power and great glory. The first coming is now a matter of history; the second advent is still in the future. Many Bible students believe that Christ may come very soon. When He comes it will be a time of Restoration, or Resurrection of "all things which God hath spoken by the mouth of His holy prophets." It will be a time of Resurrection, of Reward, of Reunion and of Rejoicing. The evangelist believes that Christians ought to be the happiest people in the world. Normal Christians are happy. He told the following story to illustrate the thought: Robert was a small boy who lived with his grandparents, who were very strict and narrow in their religious views. They believed a Christian should always be serious and sober. One Sunday Robert wanted to whistle, but his strict grandfather would not allow that. Robert saw old Rover, the dog, jumping and playing about the yard and said, "Rover, you are too happy, you are not a good Christian." Then he went to the barnyard and saw the old donkey, who was eating his dinner. His long, lanky ears looped down, and he looked very sad and melancholy. Robert went up to him and petting his long, narrow, dejected-looking face, said, "Nice old Jack, you're a good Christian; you are just like grandpa." That is a counterfeit Christianity. When God's people realize what He has done for them they will have an over-flowing joy. The attendance for a Monday evening service was good and there were several conversions. It is believed that this week will be the best in the evangelist's campaign.

OBITUARY

BESSE ROSS CARLISLE

Besse Ross Carlisle was born in Hume, Ill., February 1st, 1873. When she was four years of age the family moved to Sterling, Ill., where they resided until the spring of 1881, at which time they went to Harmon to live and this was Besse's home until her marriage. She said when a young girl that she wanted to be a doctor because she could always be helping others; and this purpose has ever been uppermost in her mind. She attended school at Harmon, Port Huron, Mich., and Wheaton College. In April, 1897, she graduated from the Physio-Medical College of Chicago and on June 30th of the same year she was married to Dr. J. W. Carlisle, a fellow classmate, and came with him to make her home in Robinson, Ill.

One daughter, Vivian, her father and mother and one brother and one sister have preceded her in death. She leaves of her own immediate family, her husband, Dr. J. W. Carlisle, of Robinson, three daughters, Vera, Iris and Irma, a brother, George E. Ross, of Harmon, Ill., and an uncle, Clarence E. White, of Sterling, Ill. Other relatives are cousins living in Sterling and Chicago and in Massachusetts.

Mrs. Carlisle has always been a Christian in the fullest and truest sense of the word, a devoted and faithful worker in the Church and Sunday School. She always put her Christian duties first.

She was president of the Robinson Women's Club at its organization, and has always led in every movement that would help make Robinson a better town or would help others in any way.

She was a member of many different lodges and clubs; the two of which she was especially fond being the Sorosis and Old Friends. In the words of Solomon: "Let another man praise thee and not thine own mouth, a stranger and not thine own lips." Perhaps no more apt words than these could be spoken of Mrs. Carlisle with her sweet smile and gentle voice she went ceaselessly from one duty to another.

Now that death has called her away we realize the truth of these words:

"She shall rest from her labors; her good works do follow her and her children shall rise up and call her blessed."—Contributed.

The Judiciary Committee to whom was referred the two applications for relief under the Act for Relief of the Blind now present their report and recommendations:
We the undersigned Committee have examined the two attached Blind Petitions of Elizabeth Jacoby and Daniel Jacoby and find they are both entitled to blind pensions and recommend the same be allowed according to law and that the County Clerk be directed to issue an order for the above named on October 1st, 1922, for $25.00 and the same amount each quarter thereafter.
Respectfully submitted,
William Todd
J. J. Trostle
H. H. Gieseler
Frank Gleason
Thereupon on motion of Supervisor
Todd, duly seconded by Supervisor Knecht, said report is approved and the recommendations therein are concurred in by the Board.
Upon motion of Supervisor Bauer, duly seconded by Supervisor Geiger, the Aid to Fred Tobey, given him under the Act for Relief of the Blind is discontinued.
The Road & Bridge Committee present the following report on the completion of the Van Petten bridge, which said report is in the words and figures following:
REPORT OF VAN PETTEN
Early in the season our attention was called to the overloaded condition of the Van Petten bridge. This is a bridge 35 feet long, 16 feet road way, over a drainage ditch and was carrying a concrete foot one foot thick. It was thought advisable by the joint committee to remove the old concrete floor, and replace same with a 3 inch crossotied plank floor with an asphaltic wearing surface, also to paint the steel.
Bids were asked for and received on Sept. 25, as follows:
F. G. Gifford $245.00
Vernon Perkins 190.00
The above bids did not include the lumber required, this being furnished by the two contractors. A contract was awarded to Vernon Perkins at his bid of $198.00, and a contract was entered into May 26th, signed by L.
R. Neighbour, Co. Supt. of Highways of Lee County, and Edward O. Hills, Co. Supt. of Highways of Whiteside County.
The work has been completed and inspected and accepted by the joint committee.
Mr. Perkins bill is $198.00
Moses Dillon Co., lumber 139.63
Dixon Telegraph 11.90
Total cost 349.53
Under the law for county line bridge work, the expense thereof is to be shared by the counties concerned.

in proportion to their assessed values. That of Lee County is $31,409,546.06
That of Whiteside is 29,838,178.00
These amounts are about as 51 to 49.
We therefore respectfully recommend that the County Clerk be directed to issue orders for the payment of Lee County's portion of said cost, as follows:
Vernon Perkins $101.53
Dillon Lumber Co. 71.63
Dixon Telegraph 5.95
Respectfully submitted, this 14th day of September, 1922.

Thereupon on motion of Supervisor
Edwards, duly seconded by Supervisor Geiger, said report is approved and the recommendations therein are concurred in by the Board.
The Road and Bridge Committee also present their report on the completion of the Town Hall Bridge, in the Town of Hamilton, which said report is in the words and figures as follows, to-wit:
FINAL REPORT
Town Hall Bridge, Town of Hamilton.
To the Lee Co. Board of Supervisors,
Gentlemen:
Your County Aid Road & Bridge
Committee of the Town of Hamilton for the building of the Town Hall Bridge said Town, would report thereon as follows:
The work is completed as heretofore authorized by your Board, and is approved by your Committee.
The bridge is of beam construction, on reinforced concrete walls. It is 11 days of 22 feet and a road way of 16 feet.
It was duly advertised and at the letting on May 20, 1922, two bids were received:
Jacob Rhodenbaugh, bid $1060 with no extra charge if piling proved to be necessary, and it should devolve upon him to drive same.
Cox & Warner bid $1552.50.
Contract was awarded Rhodenbaugh a full bid. It was found that no extra piling was needed, and the 24 foot beam stringers of the old bridge were used for this purpose. George Howell of Dixon was employed to cut the same into 12 foot lengths. Abram Ackert was appointed Inspector.
We find the cost of the completed bridge to be as follows:
Jacob Rhodenbaugh, his bid $1060.00
George Howell, cutting piling 12.00
Abram Ackert, Inspector 9.45
Dixon Telegraph, ad 9.60
F. C. Knoll, filling the approaches, 52 hours @ 50c 26.00
Total $1146.05
The half of said bid is $573.00.
As under the County Aid law, the County and Town should each meet one-half the expense, we recommend that Lee County and the Town of Hamilton each pay as follows:
Jacob Rhodenbaugh, $530.00
George Howell, 6.00
Abram Ackert, 4.73
Dixon Telegraph, 4.80
F. C. Knoll, 13.00
We further recommend that the County Supt. of Highways of Lee County be directed to procure an order and turn the $25.00 into the County Treasurer.
Respectfully submitted,
Joseph Bauer
Roy W. Gooch
H. R. Ackland
D. H. Spencer
H. A. Knecht
L. B. Neighbour.
Thereupon on motion of Supervisor
Wheeler, said report is approved and recommendations therein are concurred in by the Board.
The Finance Committee also so present their third quarterly report as to the County Highways which said report is in the words and figures following to-wit:
Dixon, Ill., Sept. 14, 1922.
Third Quarterly Report upon the "County Highways".
To the Lee Co. Board of Supervisors,
Gentlemen:
Your Road & Bridge Committee report for the third quarterly report for the year regarding the "County Highways". At the time of making the last report (the June meeting of the Board) our work had just gotten well under headway. We have had many results by which the work can be judged.
38 miles of road have been graded,
after the latest and most approved plans. This improvement is about equally divided between the east and the west side of the County.
The road lines have first been carefully surveyed by the County Superintendent of Highways, and the property lines determined, so that the improvement of the surface is on a ground, if it became necessary to remove fences, trees, telephone and electric light poles, found obstructing the right of way.
There have been many such obstructions removed, a result of which the owners have not been graded moved them without remuneration.
On account of the care in this survey-work.

The ditch lines are staked 40 feet apart. Outside of the ditches, 4 or 5 feet is needed for back slopes. This has meant that the roads have been graded to a safe driving surface in 30 feet. If any change is made in this practice, it should be to make the grade slightly wider so that with a gravelled strip in the middle of the grade, there will still be a sufficiently wide dirt track on either side of the gravel, for dry-weather driving.
At 7 or 8 road junctions, or crossings, the landowners have donated the land for "round turns" and these are both rightly and sensible and are highly appreciated by every driver of an automobile.
As September 1st is accepted as the date at which the usual road grading should stop for the year, the outlook will leave the main traveled earth roads, and do special work

On the 2nd to beginning to throw up
the shoulders to stone roads in Lee County Township, where this can be done by covering the stones. Outfit No. 1 will grade some swamp road
east of Sanders Bridge, Town of Hamilton, which can only be graded satisfactorily in the dry season.
Experience with this construction
work shows one thing very clearly.
It is a great mistake to surface with stone or gravel before the grade has been properly constructed. It is almost as great a mistake to spread the gravel without first finding the construction line, so as to place a hard surface in straight lines and in the middle of the road.

the shoulders to stone roads in Lee County Township, where this can be done by covering the stones. Outfit No. 1 will grade some swamp road
east of Sanders Bridge, Town of Hamilton, which can only be graded
satisfactorily in the dry season.
Experience with this construction
work shows one thing very clearly.
It is a great mistake to surface with stone or gravel before the grade has been properly constructed. It is almost as great a mistake to spread the
gravel without first finding the construction line, so as to place a hard surface in straight lines and in the middle of the road.
This is Lee County's first season of roadwork under the present system. It will leave the main traveled earth roads, and do special work
On the 2nd to beginning to throw up

A SWEET LITTLE BABY BOY

Makes a Bright Spot in Every Home. A Comfort in Years to Come

Park Rapids, Minnesota.—"I have taken your medicine—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—when I was a girl for pains and before and after my marriage. I now have a sweet little baby boy and will send you his picture if you wish to publish it. My sisters also take your medicine and find it a great help, and I recommend it to those who suffer before their babies are born."—Mrs. Wm. Johnson, Box 165, Park Rapids, Minn.

To marry and arrive at middle age without children is a great disappointment to many women. Think of the joy and comfort other women have in their children as they grow older.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has helped to bring great happiness to many families by restoring women to health. Often the childless home is due to a run down condition of the wife, which may be helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It brought health and happiness into the home of Mrs. Johnson. Why not to yours?

The Kaiser's Story of the War

Is Now Running in THE CHICAGO DAILY NEWS

It is an absorbing narrative not only of the kaiser's remarkable personal career, but it also covers German history, politics, diplomacy, and, finally, her military operations in the world war. All this is discussed by the former kaiser with a wealth of detail, embellished by intimate anecdotes of contemporary rulers, ministers, confidantes, friends and foes.

Forty years of history as interpreted by the former German emperor.

Secret diplomacy as it was practiced in Berlin, Paris, London, St. Petersburg and Tokyo.

Cross-currents of international politics, from Bismarck's day to the German collapse in 1918.

Causes of war; military and naval rivalries; part played by America in the final struggle.

William Hohenzollern, writing in his place of exile—

Attacks Woodrow Wilson and charges violation of promises made in the Fourteen Points.

Voices his belief in the old canard about a secret treaty between the United States, Great Britain and France against Germany and Austria, dating from 1897.

Tells of German efforts, at various times, to form defensive alliances with Great Britain and Russia.

Recalls many episodes showing the personal relations of European rulers and ministers in past forty years.

Admits mistakes in diplomacy and politics, and represents himself as too often receptive of bad advice from his chancellors.

Blames his advisers for the Kruger dispatch, the Tangier visit and other indiscretions.

Defends Germany's motives and assails leaders of all allied nations.

Says he was prevented from committing suicide in 1918 by his "Christian convictions."
